Although a powerful reconstructive tonic, Tanlac contains no harmful ingredients, minerals or opiates, which are so often found in other medicines. It can therefore be taken by delicate children with splendid results. Sold by W. H. Windrow. 1t

A fire alarm last Saturday morning between 1 and 2 o'clock caused all that were waked to hurry to the Ray Taylor residence. However, their service was not needed as the blaze family had about subdued the blaze before the arrival of help. While the origin of the fire is not definitely known, it is supposed to have started from a partially smoked cigarette carelessly thrown away. The loss was trivial.

A vivid electrical display, accompanied by a light rain, visited Hondo Monday night. While the precipitation was light here, farther south a perfect deluge of rain fell. From about five miles south of Hondo as far as we have been able to hear from, the earth was thoroughly drenched. Some hail fell in different sections, but no material damage resulted. No rain of consequence fell north of town.

Little Doris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Windrow, is nursing an injured arm as the result of a fall.
While at the baseball game Tuesday afternoon, she, in company with a little companion, was playing on the cement sidewalk. She had the misfortune to fall and her playmate fell on top of her. As the result, Doris suffered a fracture of her right arm between the elbow and wrist. Surgical assistance was called and the injured member set, but little Doris will be out of the game for some time, and has the sympathy of everyone in her days of suffering.

F. Marion Davis left Sunday for New Orleans where on Monday morning he entered the Mergenthaler Linotype School and will spend a part of his summer vacation mastering the intricacies of those delicate and complex machines. It is an easy and simple matter to learn to operate the keyboard, and speed will come, if it comes at all, with practice thereon, but it takes special training, the opportunity to dissect the machine and handle its separate parts and learn their functions and delicate adjustments, to enable one to keep the machine in satisfactory running order. The school for training operators is maintained at the Company's agency in New Orleans and is the only school of its kind in the entire South.

HYMENIAL

Haralson-Frerichs
Married, at the home of Judge and Mrs. A. M. Lamm, Monday evening, May 22, 1922. Mr. Sam P. Haralson and Miss Elizabeth Frerichs, Judge Lamm officiating.

The marriage of this young couple came as a surprise to their many friends, so well had they guarded their secret, but nevertheless their many friends offer felicitations.

The happy couple boarded the west bound train shortly after the ceremony for El Paso, where they will make their home, temporarily at least, but will probably eventually go to California for their permanent home.

That their married life may prove one of connubial bliss is the wish of all their Hondo friends.

Graham-Hicks
Mr. Claude Graham and Miss Mildred Hicks were married in Hondo Tuesday evening, Judge A. M. Lamm officiating.

The groom was from Bandera, but was changing his home, and he and his bride boarded the west bound train later in the evening for Arizona where they go to establish their home.
That happiness and prosperity may attend them is the wish of all who knew them.

Schmidt-Schmidt.
Mr. L. J. Schmidt of Hondo and Miss Ernestina Emelia Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H.
Schmidt of the Dunlay community, were married at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, Rev. J. J. Weiss of the Quibi Lutheran church, officiating.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt left on a bridal trip to points east, after which they will be at home to their friends in Hondo.

That their wedded life may be one of much joy and happiness is the wish of all their friends.

Miss Eunice Hinds left on Friday morning for her home at Pearsall.
Miss Hinds will not be a member of the High School faculty for another year, she having declined re-election.

The people of the New Fountain community celebrated Mayfest with a basket picnic, singing, speeches and sports Thursday. A large crowd was present and a most delightful day was spent.

H. G. Wilson was up from Yancey Friday. He says a heavy and very welcome rain fell in his section Monday night, and that roasting ears will form part of menus on the dinner tables down there at an early date.

Sham Holloway was up from Kennedy on a visit Thursday. He put on the Hondo baseball uniform and showed the boys how to put the ball over the fence for a home-run. He played with Hondo's team in Pearsall Friday.

THE MISSES REILY ENTERTAIN.

Misses Gertrude and Annie Reily entertained with a party Friday evening. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The living room, dining room and front porch were arranged with tables for games of progressive "42." Music and "42" furnished delightful entertainment for the guests.

Refreshments of ice cream, in the form of a daisy, and cake were served, carrying out the color scheme of the decoration.

Those present besides the hostesses were: Misses Bess Brucks, Lurene and Clara Decker, Nettie Fly, Caro Fusselman, Pan Gilliam, Eunice Hines, Pearl Walker, Gladys and Nettie Mae Newton; Mesdames Guy

A BIT PERSONAL.

We wonder if the people of Hondo appreciate what an asset the Anvil Herald's new Linotype machine is to the town? For instance, we are printing in full this week, in connection with a report of the High School closing exercises, both the Baccalaureate Sermon and the Graduating Address. These splendid messages, bubbling fresh from the minds and hearts of noble, consecrated and able men, fired by a worthy zeal to help the youth of our town, come to us only once a year. And without the printed word they must end with their spoken expression, and only the relatively few who were fortunate enough to hear them could profit by their deliverance. But printed, they pass on to thousands of readers to benefit and uplift. With our present facilities, we handled the type-setting with ease; by the old slow hand-set system, it would have been impossible. Could we have found the time to do the work, our available supply of type would have been exhausted long before the end could have been achieved. This by way of showing how the whole town and community profits by our investment in this marvelous machine. But it is an expensive investment. It must be kept busy or it becomes a liability.

And we must have your patronage to keep it employed. Do you want to help us? Then subscribe for our papers—this one and the new one soon to be launched—and advertise your business in their columns. Confidence that you will induce us to risk the investment.

NO-HIT GAME OPENS SEASON.

The baseball season opened here Tuesday, the first official game being between Pearsall and Hondo. It was a decided one-sided affair, the visitors being no match for the Hondo team.
The locals showed up well and baseball fans are predicting great things for them before the season closes.

Dresch and Windrow did the battery work for Hondo, while Craft and Shelton performed a like service for the visitors. Dresch, of the Hondo aggregation, was in fine form, and shut out the Pearsall bunch without a single hit—a rather remarkable feat. The score, Hondo 8; Pearsall 0.

The next game on the local diamond is scheduled for next Tuesday, Decoration Day, when the crack Bandera team will be here. As our boys are anticipating a hard tussle, it is the wish of every one that a large crowd turn out and root for our boys. A fine crowd witnessed the game with Pearsall, but it is hoped that an even greater one will attend next Tuesday's contest.

The Hondo team, accompanied by a bunch of rooters, went to Pearsall for a game Friday afternoon, but the result will not be available for the Anvil Herald until next issue.

Greenville. Mr. Chancey says that some of the country covered in their trip has suffered grievously from the great floods, but that the Greenville section was in good condition. The National Highway, over a portion of which the trip was made, was badly damaged. He reports the cotton crop at about 60 per cent of normal.
In some of the territory covered corn and wheat crops were fair, in other portions very inferior.

FROM THE BANDERA NEW ERA.

Bank Robbery Case.
Walter McMillan, Chas. Marrill and Johnnie Odell were brought up from San Antonio Tuesday by Sheriff Henry Stevens and placed in the Ban-dera jail. Indictments against these men were returned by the present grand jury, charging them with the attempt to rob the First National Bank of Bandera last December. The men, except McMillan, have been in jail in San Antonio ever since the attempted robbery. McMillan has been out on bond. The case has been set for Friday morning.

Mrs. Emma Short and Mrs. Will

Sam Haralson arrived from Hondo Tuesday with his moving picture show and has been entertaining the public with high class pictures. We are pleased to know that he is receiving a good patronage. He has been here a number of times and always gives good shows.

Judge R. H. Burney delivered a

Hondo High School Closes A Successful Term

This week marked the closing of the 1921-'22 term of the Hondo High School. Teachers and pupils have been busy with final exams, the closing exercises, and the social functions of the event, and no doubt all will welcome the rest and relaxation that comes with vacation. This paper congratulates teachers and pupils alike on the successful term just closed and wishes them a pleasant and profitable vacation.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Monday was a red letter day in the lives of the 1921-'22 Senior Class of the Hondo High School, as it marked the beginning of their graduation exercises.

A large audience gathered at the Methodist church at eleven o'clock Monday morning for the Baccalaureate sermon.

Promptly at the appointed hour, the graduates, led by their Superintendent, Mr. J. D. Howell, and preceded by little Misses Thelma Wilson and Edna Helen Smith, as flower girls, entered the building at the southwest entrance, marched down the center aisle of the church, and were seated in the central tier of seats directly in front of the pulpit.

The choir sang "Praise Ye the Lord" beautifully, Mrs. Dr. W. H. Smith presiding at the piano.

Rev. Geo. G. Smith, Pastor of the Methodist church, offered the invocation.

Mrs. O. A. Fly sang in her rich, clear voice "A Prayer Perfect."

Rev. S. C. Swinney, Pastor of the Baptist church, read the scripture lesson.

The choir sang "Reapers Are Needed."

Miss Lucille Hollaway and Mrs. Geo. G. Smith sang "Some Other Day" in a most impressive way.

Then followed the Sermon by Rev. B. South, a Baptist minister from San Antonio.

After the sermon, the choir rendered "Be A Hero," and Rev. J. T. Berger pronounced the benediction.

SYNOPSIS OF BACCALAUREATE SERMON PREACHED AT HONDO MAY 21, 1922.

By Rev. D. B. South.

Rev. South took as his text 1 Cor. 3:11-15, "Other foundation can no man lay than that which has been laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble; every man's work shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare it; because it shall be revealed through fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work shall be burned he shall suffer loss, but he himself shall be saved, yet so as through fire."

The preacher said in part: "The purpose of all training is that we may go out to embrace the opportunities and accept the responsibilities of life."

"An occasion of this kind is always one of joy to those who are graduating, their parents, their teachers, and to the community of citizens who believe in our public schools and their product of trained citizens. "An occasion of this kind should also call for serious, heart-searching thought on the part of every one present."

The text selected raises and discusses the question of the importance and value of human lives in all their relationships.

A human life is of such importance that no mistake must be made in the foundation on which it is built or in the materials that enter into the superstructure of character. The Scriptures everywhere emphasize the great importance of human lives. James raises the important question: "What is your life?" with the assurance that there can be no time for indifference. The whole life attitude will be determined by what one's views of life are.

"One can do no better than to seek to get God's point of view as to the importance of life. This may be done by considering several important facts: (1) Man was created as the very climax of God's work of creation—everything was made ready for man. (2) Man's body was formed out of the clay—and then God stooped down and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life. "And he became a living soul." This marks man as being separate and apart from every other animal. (3) God gave man a great commission: "Subdue the earth." "Let him have dominion." Obedience to this commission has brought the development of the resources of land and sea and air. The laws governing the Radiophone were just as true in the Garden of Eden as they are today but man had to subdue them. (4) When man had fallen under the power and ruin of sin, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." Jesus came with the impelling question, "How much better then is a man than a sheep?" On one occasion Horace Mann had delivered a dedicatory address for a million dollar educational plant. At its close a friend came and said, "Mr. Mann, in your flight of oratory you were led to say what was not true. You said if this great plant succeeds in saving one boy it will be money well spent." Mr. Mann replied, "My friend, that just depends on whose boy it might be. If that boy were your boy you would say, 'It is well that the building has been constructed.'" Jesus gave no million dollars no gold nor diamonds but his very life for the redemption of human lives. The outstanding question for each one must be, "What shall I make of my life in view of the sublime valuation which God has placed upon us."

The One Adequate Foundation Upon Which Ever Enduring Life Must Be Built.

"Other foundation can no man lay than that which has been laid, which is Jesus Christ." No life can be what it should in time or eternity if it is lived out of proper relationship with God. God is our Creator, Preserver and Redeemer. With Him we must have to do now and forever.

"In seeking right relations with God for character building and a life of service every human life must face and solve one fundamental problem—the problem of personal sin. "We have all sinned and come short of the glory of God." We have missed the mark. The prophet pictures us as vessels marred in the hands of the potter and we must be re-moulded as it seems good to the Potter to make us. In a great building the foundation is of first importance. Jesus teaches this clearly in what He says about the buildings erected, one on the sand, the other on a rock. Jesus has solved the sin problem in the atonement which He has made for us. "By the grace of God He tasted death for every man." Every man who will, by faith, may accept Jesus as his Savior and have Him as the foundation of his hope and character.

"My hope is built of nothing less than Jesus blood and righteousness. On Christ the solid Rock, I stand; All other ground is sinking sand."

When we are saved through Christ and his grace we are all equally saved. It does not depend on our works at all. When we get on Christ as our foundation then, and only then, are we ready to begin building.

The text furnishes the list of Building Materials Which Christians Select From to Place in Their Building of Character.

"Now if any man build on this foundation, gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble."

"Each of these materials mentioned in this word picture has its counterpart in spiritual values."

"It is said that on some of the sites of ancient cities where modern cities now stand, may be found buildings of clay up to the window sills and then splendidly polished columns of marble or granite set into the clay. This is a tragical mixing of materials. This is but an example of the way in which the gold and the stubble are mixed in the lives of Christians. Like Jacob, who had visions of God in the night time and in the morning vowed to take God into partnership with himself was soon in partnership with Laban and resorting to every scheme of fraud. How like Peter, who left all to follow his Lord but later denied that he knew Him. Oh, the tragedy of the mixing of materials in life!

"A life that is to be built of these valuable, indestructible materials must (1) build of noble thoughts and worthy ideals. 'If ye then be risen with Christ seek those things which are above where Christ is.' When Daniel went off to college where he was tempted to forsake the religious training he had been given at home he 'Purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself.' This was the secret of his great life. "The great sin of Esau was that he lost sight of the opportunities of a life time in order to satisfy the craving of his appetite for an hour."

"Finis, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, if there be any virtue and if there be any praise think on these things.

"What is needed is a conscience clearly guided by the Word of God to discern the radical difference between right and wrong, and a will, so re-inforced by Divine power that it will decide to adhere to the right."

"We need constantly to bring our ideals to be measured by the Word of God so that like the Psalmist we may say, 'When I thought on my ways, I turned my feet unto Thy testimonies.'"

"(2) To build of these indestructible materials is to live lives of unselfish service. Jesus announced the fundamental law of life and service when He said, 'He that will save his life shall lose it but he that will lose his life for my sake shall find it.' Every selfish life is doomed."

"(3) Every one who will build of these valuable materials must live a life of consecration to God and His service. The lives of all the men and women who have pleased God and blessed the world confirm this doctrine. This is seen in the Bible characters as well as in modern times. The secret of Paul's wonderful life is found in the statement by himself, 'I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.'"

There is A Testing Time Coming When the Fire Will Test the Kind of Materials That Have Been Used in Building Character.

"The day shall declare it." The fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. "We must all be made manifest before the judgment seat of Christ." The parable of the talents tells us that, "After a long time the Lord of those servants cometh and reckoneth with them."

The investments of every day will come up to be tested in the judgment. No destructible material will escape the fire of that day. Only that that is worthy can abide.

Rewards at The Judgment Will be According to The Kind of Materials that have Gone Into Our Building of Character.

"No one will be rewarded for destructible deeds. He will suffer the loss of all these. The soul will be saved because salvation is by grace, but the works will be burned because unworthy to endure."

"If any man's work shall abide he shall receive a reward." Paul said, 'I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith, I have finished my course, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness.' Righteous Paul receives a crown of righteousness. To the Thessalonians converts Paul said, 'Ye are my joy, and glory and crown at the coming of Jesus.' If Paul had failed to invest himself in soul winning he would have had no joy, glory or crown.

"How glorious will be the reward of men like Russell H. Conwell who has invested himself in more than sixteen hundred young men who have gone out to fill with honor all the useful callings of life!"

"A wealthy banker was forced by his own conscience to confess in old age that though he had made a success in business at the bar of God he would be a pauper."

"In conclusion, if there is one who hears me today who has never yet fully accepted the Savior as his one foundation, will you not do so now? And may each one of us give from this hour, more earnest, prayerful thought, as to the kind of materials that shall enter into the structure of our character that shall endure forever."

SENIOR CLASS PLAY.

"Green Stockings," a clever comedy-drama, was very creditably presented by the Senior Class of the Hondo High School at the Auditorium Tuesday night. All rendered their parts creditably and to make special mention of one would be to mention all, for all are deserving of praise and commendation. A large audience favored the class with their presence and the proceeds will no doubt be ample to take care of the expenses of the commencement exercises.

Following is the Cast of Characters, the Scenes and a brief Synopsis of the play:

CAST.

Act II. Same as Act I. Eight months later. About 6 o'clock.
Act III. Same as Act I. Evening of same day as Act II.

SYNOPSIS.

"Green Stockings" is the work of the celebrated English novelist, A. E. W. Mason. It deals with the custom whereby an elder sister is compelled to wear green stockings at the wedding of a younger sister, provided she herself happens to be unmarried or unbetrothed.

After having worn the hated green stockings twice, Celia Faraday rebels when the time approaches for her to wear them a third time. She, therefore, invents a sweetheart who bears the name of Smith, and she excuses his nonappearance by saying that immediately after she has become engaged he has been obliged to sail for the war in South Africa.

The surprise of her sisters forces her into details which have to be manufactured on short notice. She is even induced to write a letter to him, and although she subsequently thinks she has destroyed it, it is mailed by a younger sister. In an endeavor to extricate herself from her predicament, she later succeeds in having published in the London Times a notice that Col. Smith "died Oct. 11th." The strange part of the story is that the name which she thought was purely fictitious is borne by an officer in her Majesty's service, who receives the letter, and turns up under an assumed name shortly after the publication of the death notice. His interview with Celia results in a series of laughable situations that terminate happily.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

A large audience of relatives and friends of the graduating class assembled at the Auditorium Wednesday night for the graduating exercises of the Hondo High School.

The graduating class this term consists of ten, three boys and seven girls. They are: Henry Windrow, Mrs. Althea Mills Kimball, Earl Lacy, Miss Clara Buss, Miss Elizabeth Fly, Salutatorian, Miss Evelyn Wilson, Historian, Miss Jessie Blocker, Poet, Miss Lorraine Heath, Phoebe, V. H. Blocker Jr., Class Will, and Miss Ina King, Valedictorian.

The program opened with an invocation by Rev. S. C. Swinney, Pastor of the Hondo Baptist Church. Miss Elizabeth Fly of the graduating class delivered the Salutatory. Miss Evelyn Wilson read the Class History and Miss Jessie Blocker recited the Class Poem.

Mrs. F. S. Cockrell sang a solo, "The Bells of Twilight." Mrs. Horace Bradley presiding at the piano.

Following the solo, Miss Lorraine Heath delivered the Class Prophecy and V. H. Blocker Jr. read the Class Will.

Mrs. Roland Gaines and Miss Corinne Ney sang a duet, "Boats of Mine," accompanied by Miss Brown at the piano, after which Hon. Ira Kercheville delivered the Graduating Address.

The Senior Class then sang a beautiful song, Miss Ina King delivered the Valedictory, and Judge L. J. Brucks presented the diplomas with a few well chosen remarks.

Rev. S. C. Swinney pronounced the benediction, and the 1921-'22 term of the Hondo High School passed into history.

Following is Hon. Ira Kercheville's address in part:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

To the graduates, this is one of the most important days of their lives. It marks the completion of one of the mile posts of a career. It is indeed significant to them, their teachers and their parents. Their parents have long looked forward to this day, and now enjoy its realization. It may be that they were never permitted this opportunity, and if not, their enjoyment is all the more. The teachers, who have guided these young men and women in their work, can now look upon the completion of their efforts. The graduates may at one time have thought that this day was far off and almost impossible of accomplishment, but they have put the high school work behind them, and they can now look forward to new fields of accomplishment.

You may ask the question, "Why the necessity of an education?" An education is more necessary now than ever before. As time goes on, and the population increases, and lands are occupied, competition becomes keener and more efficiency is required in business, trade and profession. The man who lacks in fundamental or in early school work counts the cost of the lack of it in later life. He may have just as much of native ability; he may have just as much ambition and spirit for accomplishment, yet, if he lacks that early training, which can only be received at a certain time of life, he is laboring under a serious and everlasting handicap. The high school graduate has many times the chance of a success in life over the sixth grader. The college graduate, or the University alumnus has almost as many more chances of success as the high school graduate. Whether we need the actual technical training received in high school in the particular avocation we select is unimportant. We may never use Algebra, Geometry, or Physics, or even Ancient History in the battle of life, but it has all contributed toward a mental training, and a broader vision of life will mean much in life's work. Every American boy and girl is now entitled to at least a high school education, and a deprivation of it is a distinct loss and a life-time handicap. One who would be above the average should have more.

We are now a nation of sixth-graders, and if America is to head the galaxy of nations it is essential that we have a nation of tenth-graders. There is no excuse in America for a boy or girl growing up and not learning to read and write, and remaining illiterate for the rest of their days. It is a crime for which their parents will be answerable.

On this occasion, it is always proper to discuss the essentials of a complete and full life. I would first say that every boy and girl is entitled to and should have a healthy body. This is the physical side of it. We should not be born with emaciated frames. We should not be the certain subjects of diseases. To be perfect mentally, socially and spiritually is still unsatisfactory and pitiful if we are failures physically. Therefore, due and proper attention should be paid to the physical body, to be as perfect as God planned that we should be. The second point is mental development, and that is where the school plays the most important part. To have a perfect physical body and no mental development is to remain in the animal state. The mind is the captain of the ship, the engineer in the cab, the pilot in the aeroplane. There could be no culture without adequate mental training. Third, we must develop the social side, and this has to do with our relationship to our fellow men. We cannot live to ourselves. We must remember that we are here not only to take care of ourselves, but to help others. "Whosoever of you would be greatest shall be the servant of all." The man who cares nothing about other men's welfare is not a good citizen. Selfishness is the besetting sin of the human race, and we must combat it daily and hourly. Therefore, everybody must develop himself in his social relationship to his fellows. Lastly, there should be spiritual development. This links us to our Creator. The man who is developed physically, mentally and socially is in a sad state if he has not obtained spiritual development, and does not know his relationship toward his God. Therefore, I say that all these elements are essential to a full and complete life.

Every boy and girl of your age is interested in a successful life. Every man who has made a great success in life is interesting. His words always draw attention. People are anxious to know how he has acquired this wonderful thing. They try to emulate his example. I believe first, that every young person should take an inventory of himself or herself. We should know our strong points and our weak ones, and our natural desires. We are fit for some things and not fit for others. We should get acquainted with our physical bodies as well as our minds, and try to discover our disabilities as well as probabilities along different lines. If we can do this, we can be our own architects.

Second, you should then form a plan or program, map it out, and adhere to it. The boy who doesn't know what he wants to do, and cannot make up his mind what to do is in a sad plight, and if he never forms a plan he will never complete one. He will be depending upon every day taking care of itself, and like Mr. McCawber will be waiting for something to turn up.

Third, he should have a purpose in life, and stick to it. He should make up his mind what he wants to do, what he proposes to do, and nothing can keep him from it if he holds to it strong enough. This is a question of motive. If we have no motive or purpose, the inventory and the plan are all for nothing. We must have ambition and dreams, and this all comes under the head of purpose. No ideals can ever be realized unless they are first conceived, and then they are all the more sweet.

Lastly, there must be the element of execution. We can have all the plans and purposes and they will go to naught if we have not the power to bring about results. In this comes decision of character and determination to win, perseverance, bulldog tenacity. Even with all the reverence

MORE DEVINE NEWS "BOOGERING."

Although last week's issue of the esteemed Devine News "forgot" to put in its usual appearance at this office, we were enabled to see a copy through the courtesy of a friend. A perusal of its pages shows that its editor is still "seeing things in the dark"—ness of his own suspicion-haunted mind!

Read for yourself:

"That the article in regard to fixing the 'Yancey road beyond the river' was hitting close to the 'bull's eye' is evident by the come-back of the esteemed Anvil Herald, who issued a disclaimer for the Hondo people, in having anything to do with it. We have been assured both before and since the appearance of the article that the County Judge and one Commissioner lives in Hondo, and that the good Commissioner of the D'Hanis precinct only lives seven miles away, and while 'Hondo' and the 'Commissioners Court' are not identical, yet the 'Commissioners Court,' the county road committee, and its advisors are no doubt largely influenced by the wishes of Hondo. By Hondo we do not mean the women and children of Hondo, nor perhaps a majority of the Hondo people, but the influential men of Hondo, who make county sentiment and largely control the county's policies in road making and other things. If they will get in behind and help the people of the south end of the county, and encourage the good Commissioner of D'Hanis-Yancey precinct, we shall have the road fixed, as promised. The Anvil Herald may not know that when Devine advertised a meeting with the Yancey people, when they were asking a road to Devine, that a large delegation of 'Hondo' people went down to Yancey, even before the Devine delegation

NOTICE.

The members of St. Louis Parish, Castroville, Texas, are requested to attend a meeting in St. Louis Hall, Castroville, Texas, on Sunday, June 4th, at 2:30 p. m., to arrange for the entertainment of the District meeting of the Catholic Central Verein.

ALL MEMBERS OF THE PARISH SHOULD BE PRESENT.

got there, and made some promises to Yancey regarding the Hondo-Yancey road, taking with them the Commissioner of the D'Hanis precinct. We are glad the road was built, and we want to see one built cross-county, east and west, and we think it will be, and the Anvil Herald knows that 'Hondo' was largely behind the building of the road from Yancey to Hondo. We don't blame them, but are surprised that any one should attempt to deny their interest and influences used in the matter."

It will be remembered that the News said that "The Hondo people * * * built a splendid road from Hondo to Yancey," and by strong implication, to say the least of it, charged the same people with designedly blocking the building of a continuation of the road from Yancey to Devine.

When we enter a denial in behalf of the people of Hondo, you will observe that he tacitly admits our contention that the Commissioners Court and its advisory committee built the road, and further disclaims including the women and children of Hondo or even "a majority of the Hondo people."

We submit that when the News goes out to accuse some one of unworthy motives and crooked deals it should be more specific.

If the News can put its pencil on "the influential men of Hondo" who have been the culprits in a shady deal of so "influencing" the Commissioners Court and its road advisors that it is purposely wasting money on one road and designedly neglecting another it has our permission to "lay on McDuff." We are willing that none guilty escape a just castigation.

Let the News name 'em and go at 'em!

For our part we will stand back and let you have a free fight. But the News won't do it. It will hedge again and come back with further explanations that explain nothing and only get their writer deeper into confusion.

For instance, does the News mean to add to the wrong done to all the people of Hondo by a false accusation, which it now withdraws and lays at the door of a "few influential" men who misapply their influence and do evil deeds with, the further charge that a "large delegation of Hondo people" made an unfair and dishonest deal with "Yancey" to prevent the building of a road which the Yancey people need and want? Does the News mean to say that "Yancey" is crooked enough to be partners to this deal or simple enough to be taken in by it? And whom does the News mean by "Yancey," anyway?

And why drag the D'Hanis Commissioner into it? What part would the News have us understand he had in it? Was he a partner in the crookedness? A mere looker-on at the shady deal? Or was he intimidated by the awful "influence" of the "influential men of Hondo?"

Men who know the personality of the D'Hanis commissioner can but smile in pity at the News' predicament.

Oh! what a mess one makes when they train themselves to imagine a vain thing!

So far as Hondo is concerned, as we understand it, instead of being "behind" the building of the Yancey-Hondo road it was at one end of it, no one has or is going to deny Hondo's interest in it or influence for it. What was denied is that Hondo BUILT something, in the first place, which the county taxpayers built, through their agents—the commissioners and their advisors—or that, in the second place, they purposely defeated the building of a road anywhere else.

The News admits it is only the few "influential men" who are guilty.

Let it name 'em and swat 'em as they deserve.

But casting insinuations around indiscriminately is neither fair to one's neighbors, safe for the one who does it, or a constructive way to go about getting the needed roads built.

Men of "influence" hesitate about "getting in behind and helping" people who accuse them of improper motives or transactions that are shady.

They fear to trust the motives or the fidelity of the men who mistrust them.

And the News will not attract help or support to its cause by such tactics.

KNOWLEDGE THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

II.
That beacon light of truth, far off to the right, is perched on the mountain of Knowledge. This knowledge is the accumulated store of social wealth. Towards this many are struggling with an eagerness of desire which is bound to win. But first let us take a cursory view to the left, the land of forest shade, shadows, and darkness. Here we find struggling individuals, or small groups of disorganized, semi-civilized, primitive society. Isolation, selfishness, fear and mistrust are in possession.

Here ignorance is the blight of the world. These poor mortals, driven on by want to seize upon and appropriate the bounties of nature in forest and stream, are never satisfied until they have exploited, devastated, and wasted these natural resources. Like the lion in the story, these pioneers have killed the noble stag, feasted on the choicest portions and left the carrion remains for the hungry jackals and howling wolves that follow after them. Listen at those growls of selfishness, cries of strife and wails of distress. Among these pioneer individuals and simple groups let us note a few, more in detail. First comes the land hog, who at first, satisfied with the bounties of nature, lives in primitive idleness; but at the approach of others, fleeing from tyranny to this "Land of Plenty," he throws up fences, records paper titles and puts up signs, "Posted, Keep Out." He can make no real use of these vast areas of mother earth, but speculates on the needs of the late comers to whom he rents this land or sells it at prices in direct proportion to their needs and indirect proportion to his real deserts.

How long shall society suffer these land hogs to wallow in the mire of their own selfishness and continue to pay them tribute in rents or speculative profits. This eager crowd of late comers are the actual toilers; tenant farmers, industrial laborers, and would-be toilers, retired merchants, teachers and others who would like to take to the simple country life where they can more nearly produce the necessities of life and enjoy the comforts of home, and participate in the better activities of a society dominated by higher ideals than selfish indulgence. Suppose these old beasts of prey, or land hogs, are expropriated of their sole rights to the soil and the fruits thereof by a constitutional provision for a

Mr. Davis hopes, in a publication of his own, to take up again the work for the farmers of Texas which he was doing and which was interrupted when the Legislature cut off the appropriation for the Monthly News Bulletin of the State Department of Agriculture. He has the promise of some able help in editing his paper and hopes to surpass anything ever achieved with the State publication.

The answer to "What's Coming" will depend upon the response of the public of the state. Being a privately owned and financed enterprise it must be supported by paid subscriptions. Will you help him put it across? Do you want to be a pioneer in the enterprise? If so send a dollar at once and find out "What's Coming." There are nearly 500,000 farmers in Texas. Graduated Land Tax which would begin gently at first, then with a tightening grip squeeze until all lands held for speculation are released on reasonable terms to these eager home-seekers?

A second constitutional provision known as the Home Ownership provision would enable these home-seekers to acquire a farm home of sufficient size and equipment to provide for their immediate needs of food, shelter and fuel, and by the sale of a surplus to secure other needs and comforts of life. By such measures as these society could secure its own improvement and relieve much of the distress of the proletariat and thus prevent the agitation of various cults threatening the overturn of society.

May this first ray of light from the tower in the distant right penetrate the shades of the forest of ignorance. Further suggestion as to specific economic evils and their prevention rather than cure will be given from time to time in this paper.

JOHN N. GARNER.

If press reports are to be credited, John N. Garner, for twenty years representative in Congress from the 15th Texas District, will have opposition for the Democratic nomination in the approaching party primary.

Although Corpus Christi and Nueces county have been deprived of the direct service of the Uvalde statesman since the legislature revamped the congressional map six years ago and committed the inexcusable blunder of putting Nueces county in the 14th district, The Caller knows it voices the almost unanimous sentiment of the people of Corpus Christi, and, indeed, this section of Texas, when it declares that a failure upon the part of his constituents to return John Garner to Congress would be nothing short of a calamity.

John Garner is a Texas institution; more than that, he is a national asset. It is no disparagement of its other able members to say that John Garner, by long odds, is the ablest and most influential of the Texas delegation. Neither is it beyond the mark to assert that no member of the Congress, either in the House or the Senate, exerts a greater personal influence or can boast of a larger personal following.

Careful, painstaking, studious, intensely practical in his understanding and conception of public questions; courageous, patriotic, honest, frank, fearless, and untiring in the performance of his duty—a policy he has pursued unswervingly during his long term of service—John Garner has made a reputation for practical statesmanship and constructive public service of which all Texas may well be proud.

While the Caller entertains no apprehension as to the results of any contest in which Mr. Garner may have to engage to retain his seat in Congress, its honest estimate of his sterling worth is here set down as an expression of appreciation. His opponent is committing no offense by aspiring to the office, but the people will do well to consider the consequences that would follow his defeat. There is scarcely a county in Texas whose citizens would not deem it an honor and a privilege to be part of the 15th District so long as it enjoys the distinction of such representation in the halls of Congress as it always claims in the person of John N. Garner.—Corpus Christi Caller, May 18.

Why Suffer?

Cardui "Did Wonders for Me," Declares This Lady.

"I suffered for a long time with womanly weakness," says Mrs. J. R. Simpson, of 57 Spruce St., Asheville, N. C. "I finally got to the place where it was an effort for me to go. I would have bearing-down pains in my side and back — especially severe across my back, and down in my side there was a great deal of soreness. I was nervous and easily upset."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I heard of Cardui and decided to use it," continues Mrs. Simpson. "I saw shortly it was benefiting me, so I kept it up and it did wonders for me. And since then I have been glad to praise Cardui. It is the best woman's tonic made." Weak women need a tonic. Thousands and thousands, like Mrs. Simpson, have found Cardui of benefit to them. Try Cardui for your trouble.

DEVINE NEWSLETS.

after agricultural matters.

The editor expects to visit Vancey next Sunday, and in the absence of Pastor Dunham, has agreed to speak morning and evening at Baptist church.

Gladden C. McAnelly has taken Lon Wington's place as toll inspector of the Devine neighborhood, and Mr. Wington will inspect cattle at home and look after delinquents, who have not dipped, as required. We heard this week, from Mr. Billharts, inspector of the upper vats in this precinct, that some men living in town, having stuff up that way that have not been dipped, and their neighbors are complaining. We were asked to say that it will do little good for one man to dip, and another, in an adjoining pasture do not dip. Mr. Wington, we understand, is to look after these delinquents.

Judge R. J. Noonan, who owns a tract of land near Devine, is very enthusiastic over prospects for oil here. The Judge said Thursday to the News man that he believed a big oil field will soon be opened up near Devine, that would make a city shortly. He said he wouldn't lease his land for money, but for immediate drilling he would give it free. He says Devine people are holding back development when they lease for money, to some individual or concern that is buying for speculation only. He is anxious to see tests made near town.

Judge R. J. Noonan and County Clerk Jungman were circulating among our oil men a part of the week. They are interested in lands west of and north of town. A derrick is now going up on the Jungman tract near Chisum Lake, and it is hoped that one will soon be going up west of town. Land owners should pool their lands for immediate drilling contracts and pay no attention to the little lease money offered them by those who are leasing up and holding for others to drill.

Commissioners Court Here Thursday. County Judge R. J. Noonan, Treasurer J. J. Drotzkourt, Commissioners A. E. Tondra, H. P. Buss, Jno. R. Ney and J. W. Robertson, also Sheriff Joe Bader and Butler Finger were in Devine Thursday looking over the roads and transacting other business.

AN IDEAL FARM HOME

A reasonable amount of cash and vendor's lien notes to suit, at 8 per cent, will buy the Charles Walbath farm and home, one mile northwest of D'Haris, on Saco Creek. There are 110 acres in the farm, 35 in field, 75 in pasture and 50 acres of this is tillable land. The soil is rich, heavy black-sandy soil. All fenced and cross-fenced. Nice orchard and vineyard—140 trees, 50 grape vines. Water piped to house and about premises from good well with windmill. For further particulars about price, terms, etc., apply to the owner on the premises or call on Fletcher Davis, or write him, at Box 228, Hondo, Texas.

the rounds of the farming belts. He reports good corn on black lands and a poor on sandy, with cotton fruiting on hard lands and signs of weevils. Watermelon crop looks good where the storm did not strike, with young melons on the vines.

Died Near Big Foot.

Mr. Charles Dunn, age 61, a retired school teacher and farmer of Wylie, Texas, half brother to Mrs. Charlie Brown of Devine, died Thursday evening, May 18, at the home of his nephew, Henry Brown, of Big Foot, on the Nowlin farm. He had been troubled with tuberculosis and dropsy, and had spent the past year with his sister here, having gone down a few days ago to spend some time with Henry and Edgar on the farm. His several children live in North Texas and some of them came to take his body back to where his wife was buried thirty years ago, at Wylie.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect the Head. Because of its tonic and laxative effect, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC gives regularity to the bowels, cleanses the system, and does not cause nervousness or ringing in the head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE.

See our line of ALL WOOL BATHING SUITS for Ladies. In popular colors and latest styles, at THE LEADER.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and cause a general strengthening of the whole system. Nature will then throw off or disintegrate the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 75c per bottle.

"Cold in the Head"

HONDO HIGH SCHOOL CLOSES SUCCESSFUL TERM.

we have for our Robert E. Lee, we must remember that in spite of his brilliance, the bulldog tenacity, the plodding, and the hammering by Grant finally won. It is the old story of plodding overcoming genius.
We need in the world today, men and women who can decide things, not only for themselves, but the welfare of others. Men in high places make poor executives because they are afraid to turn one way or the other. They cannot make up their minds; they are afraid of criticism and opposition. It is a trite saying, but remember what Davy Crockett said: "Be sure you are right and then go ahead."

Therefore, if we begin and make an inventory of our capacities and a plan for living, and have a purpose and ambition leading us on, and capacity to execute these plans and bring them to a full fruition, we will have all the essential elements of a success in any business profession or calling in life.

The school should play an important part in our educational system, but it shouldn't be confined to education. It should overlap and have influence in the moral and social phases of life. The school house should be the center of community spirit. It should reflect civic pride and interest, not only in the physical properties of the plant, but in the selection of teachers, who play such a great and lasting part in the molding of young men and women. It should be a place where ambitions can be aroused, encouraged and fired to a white heat. It should be a place where all that is best in the boy or girl may be found, developed and encouraged. It should be the place where the lessons of honor, honesty and rectitude can be learned. These lessons shouldn't be learned first in the busy walks of life; they should be taught in childhood. They should not be left to the home or the Sunday School. The public school should be the inspiration.

Therefore, the school system is linked with the Government. A democracy which governs itself must fit its citizens for government. Therefore, education is a problem of the nation as well as the state. For this reason, I believe that too much money cannot be appropriated for educational institutions, and I am unqualifiedly opposed to a restriction in the amount of taxes or money that can be raised and appropriated for public schools. I do not believe that this should be limited any more than we should limit in our Constitution the amount of money that can be spent for self preservation in time of war. The one is aggression from without and the other is decay from within. Witness today the awful conditions obtaining in Mexico and Russia. Ignorance among the populace is appalling. What was once a great nation is now powerless before the world. It is no greater than the average intelligence of its citizens. The people of Mexico are just as undeveloped as its natural resources. They will remain so under their present system. It has been said that the cultivated mind is the guardian genius of democracy, the only dictator that free men acknowledge, the only security that free men desire.

In the school I believe there should be taught the lessons of citizenship, patriotism and Americanism. If they turn out graduates with great physical and mental development, without the due and proper regard for their common country, the whole system is a failure. That is why the State enjoins the use of the American flag on every school house. That is why it is provided that the lessons of public duty and patriotism shall be taught for a certain period each day, and that is why it has been enacted that nothing but the English language shall be used in conducting the school system.

It has been asked, "What is a State?" and a poet has answered:
"Men who their duties know, and knowing, dare maintain; these constitute a State." The lessons of patriotism should and must be taught in the public school in order for America to fulfill her destiny.

One of our best beloved poets, in describing the building of a ship, caught this inspiration of a ship of state. May we and our posterity be able to sing fervently the hymn with him.
"Thou, too, sail on, O ship of State!
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears, With all the hopes of future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate!
We know what Master laid thy keel, What Workmen wrought thy ribs of steel,
Who made each mast, and sail and rope,
What anvils rang, what hammers beat,
In what a forge, and what a heat Were shaped the anchors of thy hope!
Fear not each sudden sound and shock,

'Tis of the wave and not the rock;
'Tis but the flapping of the sail, And not a rent made by the gale!
In spite of rock and tempest's roar,
In spite of false lights on the shore, Sail on, nor fear to breast the sea!
Our hearts, our hopes, are all with thee,
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers,
Our tears, our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee—are all with thee!

BRACE UP!

Do you feel old before your time?
Is your back bent and stiff? Do you suffer urinary disorders? Don't dis-pair—profit by Hondo experiences.
Hondo people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's a Hondo resident's statement:

Mrs. P. H. Renken, tinsmith, says:
"I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have been used by others in my family with the best or results. My kidneys were disordered and acted irregularly. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and started to use them. One box of Doan's entirely removed the trouble."

Always Gets Good Results.

The above statement was given May 29, 1915 and on May 5, 1919, Mrs. Renken said: "I am just as firm a believer in Doan's Kidney Pills now as when I previously endorsed them.
I use Doan's when my back or kidneys bother me and they always cure the attacks."

LIVE OAK GRADUATES TWO.

The Live Oak High School closed for the term Thursday night, with appropriate exercises.

There were two graduates—the first in the history of the school—Misses Clara Muennink and Irma Haegelin.

The exercises opened by the audience, which filled the school building, singing "America" with patriotic fervor. Miss Clara Muennink delivered the Salutatory.

"Just A Wearin' For You," a vocal solo, was sung by Miss Irma Haegelin; Miss Ramona Bailey recited "Katie an' Me," and then the two graduates sang a duet, "One Fleeting Hour."

The Valedictory was delivered by Miss Irma Haegelin.

The teachers, Misses Octavia Davis and Hettie Fusselman, sang the old sweet song, "Annie Laurie," accompanied on the piano by Miss Dee Crow.

Miss Clara Muennink read the Class Will and Miss Irma Haegelin played a piano solo, after which County Superintendent W. N. Saathhoff presented the graduates with their diplomas.

In his address, Mr. Saathhoff congratulated Live Oak Community on the school spirit that had made possible the accomplishments manifested there at this time. He stressed the need and value of education and advised all, parents, teachers, pupils alike to go on and on in achievement.

At the close of the formal address and after each of the graduates had been presented with their coveted diplomas, the audience stood and sang "Star Spangled Banner" and were dismissed.

The teachers and pupils were the recipients of many congratulations from the pleased patrons and friends.
